

LAP TRAP

Sit on the floor. The child climbs in the adult's lap, and the adult puts their arms and legs tightly around the child. The child has to wriggle their way out of this lap trap. The adult regulates the resistance in their limbs so that the child has to struggle but ultimately succeeds in their escape.

Hoksausboksi

Body perception and control,
force regulation